The wait is over, and Rawlings Sporting Goods has been named the “Official Uniform of the NCSA” through the 2009 season. Rawlings has a long standing tradition in the sporting goods industry. Founded in 1887 by George and Alfred Rawlings in St. Louis, they have been doing business for over 100 years. Over that time they have grown into one of the leading manufacturers of competitive team sports equipment and apparel. Their client list includes some of the top professional and collegiate organizations in the United States including Major League Baseball and the NCAA. The Rawlings sponsorship bolsters an ever growing list of well known, well-established corporations for the NCSA.

"The NCSA is excited to extend our relationship with Rawlings as the Official Uniform Supplier of the National Club Softball Association. As a proud sponsor of the NCBA, Rawlings shares our vision of the promising future of the NCSA, and we are appreciative of their optimism and support in this endeavor. I look forward to seeing more of our sponsors follow the same initiative that Rawlings has, so together we might enhance the Collegiate Club Softball experience nationwide" said NCSA President Sandy Sanderson on the new sponsorship
